INTERNSHIP INFORMATION

Updated: Nov. 2016

The Office of the Federal Public Defender for the Eastern District of Virginia was created in 2001 in accordance with an Act of Congress. The Office represents indigent defendants accused of federal offenses ranging from misdemeanors to capital murder. The mission of the Office is to provide quality representation to indigent defendants at every stage of the criminal justice process. Representation includes counsel, investigative, expert, and other services necessary for an adequate defense.

The Office is managed by the Federal Public Defender, who oversees offices located in Alexandria, Richmond and Norfolk, Virginia. Each of these offices is staffed by, among others, Assistant Federal Public Defenders (“AFPD”), research and writing attorneys, sentencing specialists, investigators, paralegals, and various support personnel. The AFPDs, together with the above staff, handle caseloads comprised of federal misdemeanors, felonies, probation and supervised release violations, grand jury representations, direct appeals to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit, and petitions for writs of certiorari to and arguments before the Supreme Court.

Each office also has a limited number of placements for non-salaried legal interns. Interns have the unique opportunity to receive hands-on experience in the preparation of the defense of criminal cases in federal court. They may be asked to conduct legal research and/or, draft motions, memoranda, and appellate briefs. They also might be asked to assist with factual investigation, trial preparation (including client/witness interviews and help with case-planning strategy), and sentencing matters. Moreover, interns are encouraged to attend court proceedings.

Interns are assigned to work directly with one or more AFPDs, who along with the Federal Public Defender, will supervise their work. They will receive informal feedback from their attorneys, and, if requested, a formal evaluation of their performance at the end of the term. Interns also may be invited to attend informal lectures on criminal practice.

All interns are expected to commit to working a specific number of hours per week. Approximately fifteen to twenty (15-20) hours per week is the norm during the school year, and approximately forty (40) hours per week for the summer months.

Law students of any year may apply for an internship, but preference will be given to second and third year students. Interns will be selected on the basis of their past work or school experiences, their desire to work in this Office, their demonstrated level of maturity and competence, as well as the level of commitment they are prepared to make to the work of the Office.

Persons interested in applying for a legal intern position must complete the attached application and submit it, along with:

- 1) Current Resume
- 2) Writing sample
- 3) Official or unofficial law school transcript
- 4) Cover letter (as described in the application)

All application materials should be forwarded to the office (or offices) in which the applicant is interested in working:

Alexandria: Kenneth Troccoli, AFD
(703) 600-0870
kenneth_troccoli@fd.org

Richmond: Mary Maguire, AFD

mary_maguire@fd.org

Norfolk: Lauren Shuman, Research & Writing Attorney
(757) 457-0865
lauren_shuman@fd.org

Applicants should indicate in which office or offices you would be willing to work, and the amount of time (part-time or full-time) to which you are able to commit to the position.

There is no application deadline for school-year internships. The application deadline for summer 2017 internships is February 28, 2017. Applications, including all attachments, must be sent by that date in order to be considered. Please note that school-year and summer intern positions are filled on a rolling admissions basis, meaning that each application sent will be considered as soon as it is complete. Applications may be submitted by mail, fax, or email. (If by email, all submitted documents must be part of one PDF file.)
